THE TARIFF BATTLE

For the first time in twenty years, the manufacturing interests of the U. S. A. have a chance to do something towards the re-establishment of the protectionist principles which, in the half-century immediately following the Civil War, built this nation from farmlands to the richest and strongest country on earth.

Not since the first half of the Hoover Administration has this country enjoyed what it has at the present moment—clean-cut control of both the executive and legislative branches by the Republican Party.

In 1947 the Republicans held both Houses of Congress. But there was a New Dealer named Truman in the White House, and the Republicans were powerless to do anything constructive about the tariffs and the mis-named reciprocal trade agreements program—would have been impotent even if Senator Vandenberg hadn't mouse-trapped them before they could get started.

This time it is different. The Republican Party, long pledged to support the concepts of protectionism as the only means of safeguarding American labor, American farmers and American producers from low-wage, low-standard foreign competition, can at least start the ball rolling this season.

A measure to that purpose has been introduced by a Pennsylvania Congressman Richard M. Simpson, dean of the Keystone State Republicans on Capitol Hill. Mr. Simpson's name is on the measure officially recommended by the House Ways and Means Committee, which is the tariff committee as well as the tax committee of the Lower House.

Chairman of the Committee is Congressman Daniel A. Reed whose name is on the Committee's bill proposing sharp income tax reductions this year.

The Simpson Bill proposes some exceedingly mild restrictions on the reciprocal trade program, which it would extend for one more year while studies called for by President Eisenhower are being completed.

What the Simpson Bill would do, in brief, would be to strengthen the Tariff Commission and permit it to fix "peril points" in tariff rates below which no one would be allowed to reduce the tariffs.

At the present moment, the Tariff Commission makes studies of the effect of tariff cuts on labor, industry and the general economy, and figures out these peril points. They have virtually no standing, however, since a President is able to over-rule them and slash rates which may spell ruin to a line of industry and mass-unemployment for those working in it.

The Ways and Means Committee believes it is un-American for any one man, even though he be President, to have this power of life and death over supposedly "free" enterprise in this self-governing Republic.

The White House, however, has permitted its spokesman to sharply criticize the Simpson Bill and to misrepresent it as being a drastic limitation of the President's powers to deal with foreign countries. An effort is being made to "stall" the matter under the pretext that it is necessary to wait till the study is completed.

P. O. S. of A. Home Guest Will Be 97 Monday

Mahlon Birsh Will Mark Birthday Anniversary in Quiet Manner

By Mitchell C. Hodges (Daily Intelligencer-Courier Feature Service)

One of the oldest living men in Bucks County is Mahlon Birsh.

He will 97 years old Monday. For a little less than a year, he has been living at the P. O. S. of A. Home for the Aged in Chalfont.

Mr. Birsh is in quite good health, except for occasional rheumatic twinges, and has a firm handgrip when he greets you. When the Intelligencer's representative called on him one afternoon, he was out for a walk, even though it was a mighty windy day.

Miss Helen Seitzinger, the matron, said he takes a walk nearly every day, and that he spends much time looking at television shows. He also attends and enjoys various parties given at the Home for the residents.

"Yes, I'd like to live to be 100, or perhaps 105," he said, smiling. "I once knew a man who lived to be 115. He lived in Portland, Pa."

Mr. Birsh has a son, Lewis, who lives in Bethlehem and often calls on him, bringing his son. Occasionally, nieces from Indiana pay him a visit, and often old friends of his from Stroudsburg drop around for a call.

He doesn't read nowadays, because his eyes are bad, yet he does not wear glasses. He has a healthy head of white hair. When he walks, he helps himself along with a cane.

Mr. Birsh rises about six-thirty in the morning, and retires to his room between seven-thirty and eight o'clock each evening.

He recalls that his father, Michael, was drafted for the Civil War, but declared that, like many others of that time, he paid out $75 to get out of the draft.

Two Are Injured In Crash; Car Demolished

Accident Occurs On Route 13 Just East of Street Road

The drivers of two cars were injured and their vehicles, one a 1953 Kaiser sedan, driven only 35 miles, demolished following a collision at 2:15 this morning on Route 13 about one-quarter mile east of Street road, Eddington.

The injured were identified by Bensalem township police as: Joseph E. Rogan, 25, of 321 Edgewood avenue, Phila., who was driving his 1951 Pontiac sedan along Route 13 in the direction of Phila.

Arthur A. Brooks, of 317 Garfield avenue, Bristol, who was bringing his new Kaiser home from a garage where he had purchased it.

The impact of the colliding cars hurled them off the roadway and over the embankment along the road.

Bucks County Rescue Squad was called to the scene and transported the injured drivers to Bristol General Hospital where both were treated for scalp cuts and shock.

Chief George Rents of Bensalem township police investigated.

FINED FOR POLICE CAR CRASH

Thomas McShane, 41, of Lincoln avenue, Langhorne, the driver of the car that collided with Bristol borough's police car last week, was fined $10 last night by Justice of the Peace Rene Tritschler, Crofton, for failing to yield the right of way to a police vehicle, resulting in a collision.

Letters Granted In Reifinger Estate To Funeral Director

Settling An Estate Under Litigation for More Than 4 Years

DOYLESTOWN, Apr. 11—Letters of administration in the Estate of Samuel H. Reifinger, Sellersville, were granted to a Perkasie undertaker, Robert A. Benner, Perkasie, settling an estate under litigation for more than four years ago.

Reifinger died Nov. 30, 1948, and according to the letters of administration granted there are no known heirs. The personal estate is listed at $1 but Register of Wills officials in the Court House, here, indicated it is more than that.

A will, dated Nov. 29, 1948, was filed in the Register of Wills Office here but was never probated. In the will, Daniel W. and Florence Rosenberg were named the heirs.

In a petition for citation, filed by Robert A. Benner, the Perkasie funeral director stipulated that Samuel Harry Reifinger died intestate and that is nearest heir is William Reifinger, Coplay, near Allentown, Lehigh county.

Funeral Director Benner listed funeral services as $672.25 and stated $100 was paid March 31, 1951, leaving a balance of $572.25.

A caveat was filed in the Register of Wills Office here by William Reifinger Jan. 14, 1949, asking that he will be probated or letters of administration granted without him being notified.

The will was never admitted for formal probate because two of the witnesses, Estelle K. Nase, a Grand View Hospital employee, and K. Hope Horn, Perkasie, secretary, signed the will but not in the presence of Reifinger, the testator.

Estimate Flood Control Cost to Be Nearly $250,000

Wm. Spencer Erwin Gives Figure Without Bridges And Other Costs

An estimated cost of a quarter of a million dollars was quoted today by William Spencer Erwin, Bristol township engineer to cover the cost of the "immediate" work needed to alleviate the flood threat to Bristol township and Bristol borough and to reclaim swampland.

Erwin said he would not estimate the total cost of new bridge construction and land reclamation of the over-all problem because surveys were not yet made of possible flood damage expectations in the Middletown township, Penn del.

Langhorne Manor, and Langhorne borough portions of the Mill Creek, Queen Anne Creek watershed which covers almost 20 square miles of lower Bucks county.

"The matter must be remedied as soon as possible," Erwin declared. "Every house that goes up adds to the problem."

Already, Erwin explained, it is clear that the bridges over Green lane and over Magnolia avenue need to be replaced with larger structures.

"But the survey has not yet been made of how many bridges will have to be rebuilt over Mill Creek north of its intersection with Queen Anne Creek."

Last week the State Highway department called for bids for construction of a bridge of two 30-foot spans at Edgely avenue over Mill Creek.

The existing bridge at Green lane has half the area below it through which water may flow. The bridge at Magnolia lane has only a little larger opening than the Green Lane Bridge.

The Green Lane bridge, Erwin said, was built by the State for the township with Federal funds. It is therefore a township road. The bridge at Magnolia avenue is a county bridge he said.

The great flood threat exists, ac-

This will be a very colorful event with units coming from many sections of the east. Included among these units will be the Hamilton Post from Baltimore, Maryland. The units from this corps are the Maryland State champs. A unit will appear from Audubon, New Jersey. Their color-guard is composed of eight fast stepping girls dressed in blue uniforms with yellow kick pants. The Chester W. Terhoun Post color-guard from Bristol will be on hand to show their talent. The group is reorganized and fans are looking forward to seeing them again.

The color-guard from the Jesse Soby Post, American Legion of Langhorne, Penna., have just made entry to the contest. This group has been entered in many competitions during the past season and their record has been one of the finest.

The Bracken units will be ready to perform with exhibitions in drumming and a drill by the Bracken color-guard. For the first time in Bristol will be seen the fast stepping Bracken Midgets which appeared for the first time two weeks ago in Phila., and amazed the spectators.

It is anticipated that many Bristol residents both old and new will be on hand for a fine evening of marching, maneuvering, drumming and bugling.

SATURDAY, APRIL 11, 1953

APRIL IN PARIS

It is not revealed whether pangs of homesickness ever bothered Maurice Thorez, the French communist party leader who has been out of France since 1950.
He suffered a paralytic stroke about the same time the French communist party was suffering setbacks of its own due to a tougher attitude on the part of the French government.

Anyhow, Thorez has been on "sick leave" in Moscow for more than two and one-half years.
There has been speculation from time to time that his "sickness" might turn out to be of the permanent variety. But now he appears to have been completely cured and it has been announced that he will return to France.

The implication is that Thorez has been eating his heart out for his native land, and finds that most wonderful of all times and places—April in Paris—beckoning him.

Those in Western Europe and in Washington who have studied the communist mind know this is the bunk. Thorez is returning to do a specific job: The sabotaging of the European army treaty.

In the ratification of this treaty France is the key nation. Up to this point only one nation—West Germany—has ratified the pact, under which 500,000 German troops will be absorbed into a projected 2,000,000-men European army. The French Parliament is wavering, principally because of the specter of a rearmed Germany rattles the bones of generations of Frenchmen dead in German-inspired wars. Italy, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg are waiting to see how France swings.

The return of Thorez actually is part of the entire communist spring "peace" offensive.

ADENAUER VISIT

Russia's recent and highly suspicious change of attitude toward the free world places in a new perspective the American visit of Konrad Adenauer, Chancellor of West Germany.

The German nation, though divided between East and West, is nevertheless the most powerful in the European community.
Its potential for evil was demonstrated in two world wars. Its potential for good is represented in Dr. Adenauer's own concept of German participation in a new Europe.

Russia wants Germany—not just the Soviet Zone, but all of Germany, including the industrial colossus of the Ruhr Valley. As Moscow well knows, a strong Germany literally is the keystone in the arch of European cooperation.

For that very reason the West needs Germany—the Germany for which Dr. Adenauer is the symbol. There is no arrogance in Dr. Adenauer's demeanor, though, statesman that he is, he must know the bargaining advantage that the Soviet "peace offensive" has offered.

The skirt formed three layers. The underskirt was of white satin, the next of nylon tulle and the outer skirt of the tulle with lace inserts. The skirt ended in a double train of nylon tulle and lace. The fingertip veil of nylon tulle was held in place with a bonnet of Chantilly lace over satin with pearl trim. She carried a cascade of white roses having white shower ribbons, and an orchid center. The bridal slippers were of white brocade.

The brides attendants were dressed in gowns fashioned similar. They were designed with strapless bodice and bouffant skirts of nylon net over taffeta. Short lace jackets were worn over the gowns. They were matching slippers. Their headpieces were halos of nylon net pom-poms. They carried arm bouquets of roses in corresponding colors. Miss Dunn, as maid of honor, was gowned in Nile green; Mrs. Czajkowski, wore orchid; Mrs. Glasimire, aqua blue, and the junior bridesmaid, Miss Czajkowski, wore yellow.

Mrs. Dunn, mother of the bride, chose a street-length dress of crepe and lace in dusty rose tone, navy blue accessories and wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Gosline wore a blue lace dress accessories were navy blue. She chose a corsage of yellow rosebuds. A wedding breakfast for the bride party was served at the home of the bride's parents. At five o'clock, a reception will be held in Goodwill Fire Co. hall, Bristol for 100 guests.

NEWS OF THE LEVITTOWN COMMUNITY

Claims Two Express Trains Not Sufficient

LEVITTOWN, Apr. 11.—On being notified of the plans of the Penna. Railroad Co. to run two express trains from Levittown station in June, Alexander Kopstein, of 23 Linden lane, chairman of the public utilities committee of the Levittown Civic Association, commented: "I am grateful that the efforts of the Levittown Civic Association at least have brought us one express train daily in each direction. However, in discussing the lack of additional trains, the Penna. Utilities Commission quoted figures provided by the Penna. Railroad."

Kopstein's public utilities committee was formerly called the transportation committee. He said he was personally notified of the railroad plans in a letter from Guy R. Johnson, director of the P.U.C. Bureau of Transportation, who according to Kopstein, added that the number of Levittown commuters does not justify the immediate addition of express service.

"I am replying to Mr. Johnson's letter and pointing out that these two trains are not sufficient, and that an investigation by the P.U.C. will show that the railroad figures are not accurate," Kopstein added. He said the PRR's commuter statistics include only commuters who now use Tullytown station, "and do not include the considerable number of Levittown residents using Edgely, Bristol and Trenton stations."

Johnson wrote to Kopstein after the Levittown Civic Association sent a telegram to Gov. John S. Fine urging that express train service be instituted at Levittown.

TAXI CAB DAMAGED

LANGHORNE MANOR, Apr. 11 — A taxicab was badly damaged last night in a collision with another automobile at Station and Comley avenues at six o'clock, according to State Police of Langhorne Barracks. The cab driver was identified as William J. Blackburn, 25, of Hulmeville, driving south on Station avenue, as a car operated by Bernard E. Brown, 35, of 124 S. Green street, Langhorne drove west on Comley avenue, Pfc. Michael Metroka said. No injuries were reported.

"Experimental" Houses Now Being Built

LEVITTOWN, April 11.—At least two "experimental" houses are under construction here, in addition to the completed house on the former site of the Budgeteer units. The Levittowner at the east end of the Exhibition Center was hastily demolished Wednesday, and a new-type house is going up in its place. In the proposed Dogwood Hollow section, west of Haines road, one other experimental-type house is being erected.

A spokesman for Levitt & Sons, Inc., yesterday refused to discuss the design of the new house or say whether they will be mass produced here. The new house in Dogwood Hollow, he said, is not the start of a section of homes of that type, but is a single research model.

Invite Bowlers To Join Major League For Next Season

This league rolls on Monday evenings at 8:45 p. m. at the Bristol Recreation alleys.

A special invitation is tendered to the Levittown and Fairless Hills organizations.

Delhaas High Nine Appears Stronger Than Last Season

The Delhaas High baseball team appears much stronger this season than last and will cause plenty of trouble to the teams of the Lower Bucks County League. The team plays its first game Tuesday afternoon against Pennsbury High on the home field.

Cosch Stanley Dick has a wealth of material for his team with 21 of his candidates having played either varsity or junior high ball last season. Last year the varsity team was composed of only 10th graders. This year, 10th and 11th grade students will make up the varsity team.

Bensalem High Ready To Open Season With Bristol On Wednesday

CORNWELLS HEIGHTS, Apr. 11 — Bensalem Township High is prepared for its opening skirmish with Bristol High Tuesday afternoon on Memorial field, Bristol. The Owls are defending champions of the Lower Bucks County.

The Bensalem team is loaded with veterans and the positions open due to graduation last June seems to be filled with likely prospects.

However, the question of retaining the championship rests on whether there will be a replacement of the Bob Whitfield type. Bob pitched and batted the Bensalem boys to the crown last season.

Others seeking mound duties are Harry Kersey and Dan Fazio. Norm Lomis is out for a first sackers job with Mike Sciolli having second base about clinched. Al Dominiani is giving Heaney a battle for the hot corner position while Lenny Ridge, John Perugini, and Lou Benardino are after outfield berths.

The meeting, as is the custom, opened with prayer for peace, this being by Mrs. Boswell. A covered dish luncheon preceded the session.

The resignation of Mrs. L. J. Bevan and Mrs. Franklin K. Willis were accepted with regret. A new member, Mrs. James Wilson, North Radcliffe street, was welcomed by the group. Serving as tellers during balloting on membership were Mrs. Horace Davis, Jr., and Mrs. Wilson Smith.

Mrs. Goslin reminded of the loan exhibit which will be opened to the public at the Thompson-Neeley house, Washington Crossing Park, next week. The club agreed to lend candles for the exhibit.
